

Keegan
m 900

WRT 104

Section: m900 Course Evaluation

Summer 2018

Home College: Arts and Sciences

1. What is the most significant thing you have learned in this course about reading and writing or about yourself as a reader and writer?

How to correctly use punctuation

2. What have you learned in this course that will help you better understand and respond to future writing tasks?

Rhetorical strategies and English
corrections

3. What have you learned about analyzing texts that has helped you better understand how audience and purpose affect writing?

That notes are useful

4. Which of the course readings helped you develop as a writer and how did this change the way you think of yourself as a writer?

Jane Jordan

5. How did your reading practices change or evolve in WRT 104? How did your reading help you create better writing?

It helped direct my reading

6. What was challenging about this course? Please explain.

Nothing Really

7. Would you describe your instructor as

- |   |     |    |
|---|-----|----|
| a. Knowledgeable about teaching writing         | yes | no |
| b. Available outside of class                   | yes | no |
| c. Prepared for class                           | yes | no |
| d. Skilled at facilitating classroom discussion | yes | no |
| e. Open to student views                        | yes | no |
| f. Intellectually challenging                   | yes | no |

8. Comment on your instructor's feedback on your writing. Was it timely? Helpful? If so, in what way?

Your awesome, Great teacher

9. Would you recommend any changes to this course? Please explain.

Less presentation, more interactive

10. Use the space below for any additional comments about the instructor or the course.

Thanks for making my summer great.

Home College:

1. What is the most significant thing you have learned in this course about reading and writing or about yourself as a reader and writer?

I learned that my writing can get really messy and that I am not as bad of a writer that I thought I was due to coming from a public school that wasn't the best. I'm glad I get to practice writing about difficult writing concepts.

2. What have you learned in this course that will help you better understand and respond to future writing tasks?

I will try to meet with my professors more and go through more peer reviews when I get an assignment and I also learned that in one of those people who should write more than one rough draft.

3. What have you learned about analyzing texts that has helped you better understand how audience and purpose affect writing?

I feel like with learning about the many ways to read and learning about the different parts to literacy it's easier for me to pick out the topic of a reading and it's main points.

4. Which of the course readings helped you develop as a writer and how did this change the way you think of yourself as a writer?

The June Jordan reading made me think critically about the rules of writing and who is in charge even when it comes to reading & writing skills.

5. How did your reading practices change or evolve in WRT 104? How did your reading help you create better writing?

Being able to read critically has helped me be able to write more critically as well. The same way that I can read and see the main point I try to read so that my main point can be recognized better.

6. What was challenging about this course? Please explain.

The large essay projects but only because I guess we are new to college style writing and requirements.

7. Would you describe your instructor as

- |   |                                      |    |
|---|--------------------------------------|----|
| a. Knowledgeable about teaching writing         | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| b. Available outside of class                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| c. Prepared for class                           | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| d. Skilled at facilitating classroom discussion | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| e. Open to student views                        | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| f. Intellectually challenging                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |

8. Comment on your instructor's feedback on your writing. Was it timely? Helpful? If so, in what way?

yes, I just wish that the rubrics were a bit more explanatory or clear because when I went to the writing center confused they would not be able to use the rubric to help me.

9. Would you recommend any changes to this course? Please explain.

Maybe, more cultural infused readings, that have to do with writing or course. More cultural writing is interesting.

10. Use the space below for any additional comments about the instructor or the course.

Really understanding & kind teacher, very appreciated!

WRT 104

Section: <sup>M900</sup>~~70170~~ Course Evaluation

Summer 2018

Home College: ~~WIS~~ ISchool

1. What is the most significant thing you have learned in this course about reading and writing or about yourself as a reader and writer?

I learned how to write a rhetoric and refreshed my memory on the basics of writing

2. What have you learned in this course that will help you better understand and respond to future writing tasks?

The invention process of writing will always stick with me.

3. What have you learned about analyzing texts that has helped you better understand how audience and purpose affect writing?

I learned the different ways to take notes and what to look out for while reading.

4. Which of the course readings helped you develop as a writer and how did this change the way you think of yourself as a writer?

Generating Ideas was extremely helpful

5. How did your reading practices change or evolve in WRT 104? How did your reading help you create better writing?

It made me prioritize specific parts in reading so that I could read faster and more efficiently.

6. What was challenging about this course? Please explain.

The challenging part of this course was the rhetoric.
It was difficult to put my thoughts into writing
so I sought help from the writing center.

7. Would you describe your instructor as

- |   |                                      |                          |
|---|--------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| a. Knowledgeable about teaching writing         | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| b. Available outside of class                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| c. Prepared for class                           | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| d. Skilled at facilitating classroom discussion | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| e. Open to student views                        | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| f. Intellectually challenging                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |

8. Comment on your instructor's feedback on your writing. Was it timely? Helpful? If so, in what way?

It was timely and extremely helpful.

9. Would you recommend any changes to this course? Please explain.

No, I was going to say there were too many readings but they were all helpful.

10. Use the space below for any additional comments about the instructor or the course.

WRT 104

Section: M900

Course Evaluation

Summer 2018

Home College: College of Arts & Sciences

1. What is the most significant thing you have learned in this course about reading and writing or about yourself as a reader and writer?

I learned how everything has a class/genre. ~~It~~
Also, I learned that I have the potential to

2. What have you learned in this course that will help you better understand and respond to future writing tasks?

I learned ~~how~~ when it's appropriate to use certain grammar like commas and semi-colons.

3. What have you learned about analyzing texts that has helped you better understand how audience and purpose affect writing?

N/A

4. Which of the course readings helped you develop as a writer and how did this change the way you think of yourself as a writer?

The course reading They say, I say

5. How did your reading practices change or evolve in WRT 104? How did your reading help you create better writing?

Yes, it helped me take better notes when it came to the readings.

6. What was challenging about this course? Please explain.

The Projects weren't exactly clear on what the projects instructor wanted.

7. Would you describe your instructor as

- |   |                                      |                          |
|---|--------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| a. Knowledgeable about teaching writing         | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| b. Available outside of class                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| c. Prepared for class                           | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| d. Skilled at facilitating classroom discussion | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| e. Open to student views                        | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |
| f. Intellectually challenging                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | <input type="radio"/> no |

8. Comment on your instructor's feedback on your writing. Was it timely? Helpful? If so, in what way?

Yes, it was timely and effective. It helped me know what I can and can't do in my next writing pieces.

9. Would you recommend any changes to this course? Please explain.

No

10. Use the space below for any additional comments about the instructor or the course.

Home College: Arts + Sciences

1. What is the most significant thing you have learned in this course about reading and writing or about yourself as a reader and writer? The class <sup>talked</sup> brought about situations in real life and connected it back to the reading.
2. What have you learned in this course that will help you better understand and respond to future writing tasks? The one reading "They say, I say" would be the best reference that I would use later on in academics.
3. What have you learned about analyzing texts that has helped you better understand how audience and purpose affect writing? I found that in the beginning the texts were repetitive. Later on they showed historical references and connected to present day events. That humanity follows a pattern.
4. Which of the course readings helped you develop as a writer and how did this change the way you think of yourself as a writer? I didn't change my perspective as a writer but the two readings I like the best, that I thought I was learning was June Jordan (No body means more) + "They said + I said".
5. How did your reading practices change or evolve in WRT 104? How did your reading help you create better writing? The ~~is~~ reading inspired me to new writing styles such as Black English which can be used in creative writing.

6. What was challenging about this course? Please explain.

The first project was difficult because it gave no specifics as to what the instructor wanted from the writer. It had no focus.

7. Would you describe your instructor as

- |   |                                      |                                     |
|---|--------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| a. Knowledgeable about teaching writing         | yes                                  | no                                  |
| b. Available outside of class                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no                                  |
| c. Prepared for class                           | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no                                  |
| d. Skilled at facilitating classroom discussion | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no                                  |
| e. Open to student views                        | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no                                  |
| f. Intellectually challenging                   | yes                                  | <input checked="" type="radio"/> no |

8. Comment on your instructor's feedback on your writing. Was it timely? Helpful? If so, in what way?

My only comment is that I wish he would be more specific in his feedback in the rough draft + upload grades to blackboard.

9. Would you recommend any changes to this course? Please explain.

No because the ~~only~~ whole entire time I was using what I had use in high school & never really learned anything new.

10. Use the space below for any additional comments about the instructor or the course.

Home College:

1. What is the most significant thing you have learned in this course about reading and writing or about yourself as a reader and writer?

I learned a lot about different forms of writing. The most important is probably the fact that certain writing has to connect to the audience or person you are trying to reach.

2. What have you learned in this course that will help you better understand and respond to future writing tasks?

3. What have you learned about analyzing texts that has helped you better understand how audience and purpose affect writing?

I learned that there are diff. ways to analyze and read texts that will help if you are looking for different things.

4. Which of the course readings helped you develop as a writer and how did this change the way you think of yourself as a writer?

Bickmore's piece helped me especially when it came to understanding genre which ultimately helped with my essay.

5. How did your reading practices change or evolve in WRT 104? How did your reading help you create better writing?

I feel as though my writing got stronger because we did a lot of peer reviews and also I received several constructive feedback throughout the course.

6. What was challenging about this course? Please explain.

Trying to understand certain concepts such as rhetoric because it is something I have not been taught before.

7. Would you describe your instructor as

- |   |                                      |    |
|---|--------------------------------------|----|
| a. Knowledgeable about teaching writing         | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| b. Available outside of class                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| c. Prepared for class                           | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| d. Skilled at facilitating classroom discussion | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| e. Open to student views                        | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| f. Intellectually challenging                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |

8. Comment on your instructor's feedback on your writing. Was it timely? Helpful? If so, in what way?

The instructor was timely when it came to feedback and was also very helpful. It was very constructive and he told me all the things I need to work on and everything I did well on.

9. Would you recommend any changes to this course? Please explain.

I would just recommend more engaging readings that have to do with what we are learning so we are more interested. (June Jordan piece)

10. Use the space below for any additional comments about the instructor or the course.

Great class ☺!

Home College:

1. What is the most significant thing you have learned in this course about reading and writing or about yourself as a reader and writer?

- I've learned how to be analytical with my writing
- And I've learned how to read vertically and horizontally to help me in different situations that I need to read texts

2. What have you learned in this course that will help you better understand and respond to future writing tasks?

- I've learned to go deeper in descriptive writing

3. What have you learned about analyzing texts that has helped you better understand how audience and purpose affect writing?

I've learned to jot down quick important quotes and notes from texts, so that I can understand the purpose of the text

4. Which of the course readings helped you develop as a writer and how did this change the way you think of yourself as a writer?

Dobrin, Generating ideas helped me as a writer because she gave strategies to help thinking about what/ho to write.

5. How did your reading practices change or evolve in WRT 104? How did your reading help you create better writing?

My reading became much better because now when I read things like textbooks, articles, etc... I can search out the main points. Because of my reading improvements I am able to analyze and go through my own writing

6. What was challenging about this course? Please explain.

The different way/perspective of writing the essays.

7. Would you describe your instructor as

- |   |                                      |    |
|---|--------------------------------------|----|
| a. Knowledgeable about teaching writing         | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| b. Available outside of class                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| c. Prepared for class                           | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| d. Skilled at facilitating classroom discussion | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| e. Open to student views                        | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |
| f. Intellectually challenging                   | <input checked="" type="radio"/> yes | no |

8. Comment on your instructor's feedback on your writing. Was it timely? Helpful? If so, in what way?

It was very helpful and Brett did a great job. His feed back helped me see what I was missing in my writing. And because of that I am able to fix it.

9. Would you recommend any changes to this course? Please explain.

NOpe.

10. Use the space below for any additional comments about the instructor or the course.

Thanks Brett

Have great rest of the day!